EVENT OVERVIEW:

The Central England Branch of the Nuclear Institute would like to invite you to our "An Audience With" event, specifically for the Young Generation Network and young professionals within the area, including university students.

Want to know what it takes to become a CEO of a major research centre at the age of 34? Join the Central England Branch at our event "An Audience with Ian Chapman", CEO of the United Kingdom Atomic Energy Authority and Head of Culham Centre for Fusion Energy. Ian will be telling us about his career, discussing his career choices and how he has become a leader in the nuclear industry. This is an insightful and unique opportunity not to be missed! Non-members of the Nuclear Institute are also welcome to the event

Refreshments will be provided during the event.
