UK NUCLEAR HUMAN
PERFORMANCE
FORUM

Edition 2, August 2010

Work completed since last newsletter:

Documentation Review
Benchmarking and Assist Visits
Body of Knowledge and Accreditation Metrics

Each of the above projects has a lead with supporting members from the Forum.

Basic Nuclear Industry Behaviours

Delivery of the BNIB Basic Common Induction Course (both e learning and if required Tutor lead) has been finalised and a pilot is scheduled to be run in August 2010.

Westinghouse International Human Performance Forum

So far the initial programme of work has been presented to the Westinghouse Human Performance International Forum, the WANO benchmarking meeting in Penly and strong links made with Scandinavian counterparts, in an effort to share and learn. The work up to date has been presented to their Scandinavian Forum in December 2009. Joe McCluskey was a key speaker at the conference.

University of Idaho visits West Cumbria

Shane Bush from the University of Idaho completed two training sessions in West Cumbria for both Sellafield Ltd personnel and invited guests from the UK Nuclear Human Performance Forum's companies. 48 candidates completed and passed the Human Performance Practitioners course delivered by Shane and Peggy Bush.

The forum is actively seeking accreditation in the UK for this course. Other members of the forum have expressed a wish for another course in the Autumn/Winter 2010. Pictured below: Shane and Peggy Bush (centre middle row), some of the UK Nuclear Human Performance Forum and Sellafield Ltd employees. Future courses are being arranged with Shane Bush for November 2010.
